

Biography: Shauna Eggers

Shauna is a Masters student in Computational Linguistics at the University of Washington. She has a B.A. in Linguistics and a B.S. in Computer Science from the University of Arizona, where she was a researcher and programmer for the MIS Department's Artificial Intelligence Lab until 2005. Her research interests include information extraction and visualization for NLP applications.