

Globalization(s) Seminar Spring 2008

Stephen Goddard
Spencer Museum of Art (Organizer)

Panel: “Art and the Environmental Endgame”

Thursday, February 21
Hall Center Conference Hall*
Co-sponsored by the Spencer Museum of Art

Upcoming Presentations:

Mon., Mar. 3

Johannes Feddema, Geography

“Conveying Science to a Global Audience: Inside the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change”

Hall Center Conference Hall*

Thurs., Apr. 3

Michele Cloonan, Graduate School of Library & Information Science,
Simmons College

“Libraries and Human Rights: Iraq in the Crossfire”

Co-sponsored by KU Libraries*

Hall Center Conference Hall*

All sessions are held in the Hall Center Seminar Room at 3:30 p.m. unless otherwise noted.

The Globalization(s) Seminar provides an opportunity for scholars across campus to exchange ideas and scholarship on any issue associated with globalizations—past and present, large-scale and small-scale, near and far, real and imagined. We encourage diverse approaches to understanding the global, and we welcome participants from all disciplines. Our focus in Spring 2008 will be Globalization and the Environment, but we welcome suggestions and participation on any topic related to globalization(s). For more information or to offer suggestions please contact Joane Nagel (Sociology, 864-4114, nagel@ku.edu) or Susan Harris (English, 842-6772, skh5@ku.edu).

Sessions are open to all graduate students, faculty and staff of the University of Kansas and their guests.

Papers for all sessions are available on our website www.hallcenter.ku.edu for anyone wishing to attend. A PDF file of the paper is listed according to speaker, and a password is required to access the paper. Please contact the Hall Center at hchseminars@ku.edu for the password.

The University of Kansas • The Hall Center for the Humanities
(785) 864-4798 • FAX (785) 864-3884 • www.hallcenter.ku.edu • hallcenter@ku.edu

KU
HALL CENTER
FOR THE HUMANITIES
The University of Kansas